UJ to Edith Wherry Muckleston*

[Spring 1922]

Wednesday

My dear Edith—¹

You will forgive me for not answering your letter instantly when I tell you I have just returned from the hospital where I underwent a severe major operation.² I, who have never been under a doctor's care in my life (except when babies came!) My step-sister Edith is here looking after my little boys— I am rapidly convalescing now ♦ and will within a couple of months be stronger than ever I think. You didn't give me any hint of when you might be able to come, but if it were later in the summer I should simply ADORE having you. I have a quaint little very English bed-sitting-room with an open fire and books in it, which looks out over the cliffs and sea an enchanting view—with a double bed in it for you and Margaret.³ Many, many of my ♦ friends have enjoyed that room. An English girl⁴ with whom I coached through Cornwall visited me last year and she constantly exclaimed at the Cornish coast outside these windows. —My little boys are just five and since they play only together are not rough so young Margaret would have companions. —Also I am a crank about children's diet so that's provided for.

I hope I've made this sound attractive enough so you'll take advantage of it if you can manage.

My warm love

Yours

Una

In a recent letter to Grace McPherron⁵ I told her of the death of Virginia Judy's husband.⁶ I also enclosed a clipping from a San Francisco paper telling of the strange taking-off of the former husband of Céleste la Coste, —Dr Etcheverry—didn't you know him?⁷ Perhaps Grace will tell you about it.

1. For biographical information, see Collected Letters 2: 471n2. Edith Wherry Muckleston was a member of Alpha Beta Sigma

(later Alpha Omicron Pi), Una's sorority at the University of California, Berkeley.

2. Una had a hysterectomy early in 1922.

3. Margaret Christian Muckleston (1917–1997) was the only one of Edith's three daughters to survive childhood. She married Edward Thomas Price, Jr. (1915–2012) in 1942. Price earned a Ph.D. in geography at the University of California, Berkeley in 1950 and taught at a number of institutions before completing his career at the University of Oregon.

4. Alberta "Bert" Gearing. See Collected Letters 1 and 2.

5. Grace Adams McPherron (1877–1957), an 1898 graduate of Pomona College, was one of Una's sorority sisters at UC Berkeley, where she earned a second A.B. degree in 1904. McPherron then taught high school Greek and Latin in Los Angeles. In 1927 she obtained an M.A. from UC Berkeley with a thesis titled "Caesar in the Year 60 B.C."

6. Emily Virginia (Judy) Esterly (1882–1946), a sister of Una's close friend Clinton Judy, was also a member of Una's sorority at UC Berkeley. She married Ward Benjamin Esterly (1883–1922), a construction engineer, in 1910. At the time of her death, Virginia was dean of students and assistant to the president at Scripps College in Claremont, California.

7. Celeste (Lacoste) Etcheverry (1883–1978), another member of Una's sorority at UC Berkeley, graduated from the university in 1905. In June of the same year, she married Michel Etcheverry (1879–1922), a French-born San Francisco physician affiliated with the French Hospital; the marriage ended around 1921.

My dear Mr. Jones:¹

I'm sure it isn't customary, but perhaps you'll let me say thank you for the intelligence and sympathy of your review of "Tamar and other poems",² sent me the other day from New York. You talked mostly about the little private poems that few others have noticed much; and you evidently share my feeling for nice stones.

The book has run through its edition and no more are to be had, but Boni and Liveright intend to republish it this fall, with some later poems.

Sincerely yours,

Robinson Jeffers.

1. Llewellyn Jones (1884–1961), literary editor of the Chicago Evening Post from 1914 to 1932, was the author of How to Read Books (1930) and other works.

2. Llewellyn Jones, "Songs of Sea and Granite," Chicago Evening Post Literary Review (June 5, 1925): 1, 3. "Milton was two-thirds right when he said that poetry should be simple, sensuous and passionate," Jones writes in his concluding paragraph. "Mr. Jeffers is flamingly passionate and every line he writes has its sensuous appeal—in the good sense of the word, of course, his images, indeed, being often on the grand scale. But he is not simple in the sense of being elementary. His impressions are never naive, they are those of a man who sees thru, rather than with, his eye: he sees with mind and soul as well as eye. His granite and his sea and sky are not only that to him, but the mirrors of strength and desire; and it is of these in their endless cycles that he sings."

September 11, 1928

Dearest Edith—

I was very much disappointed that you did not drive up to our door this summer. I looked forward to picking up the threads spun during these long years—and resuming our pleasant intercourse.

Most of my life has been lived since I left Los Angeles—everything of importance has happened since then— I am your same loving Una—but somewhat more mature in mind I think! After my household whom I adore very much too much for quiet comfort—comes literature—always my most eager interest. Wouldn't I love to talk with you of that! — For six years too I have been devoted to old ballads—English, Scotch and Irish—both set (and unset) to old music. I have some very rare old books. I think my choicest ones are Elizabethan with lute and virginal music. I have three ♦ quaint little organs in various rooms and I spend every odd moment with a ballad book. —You would combine with the virginal music if you retain that detached and mediaeval air you wore of old, as if you had just stepped out of the golden mellow days of W^m Morris people of {Burgdale.}

I agree with you, Robin's verse is disturbing. Many people seem to agree that he is a great poet. I know that as a human being—more elements of greatness than I have ~~known~~ met before in one person. An extraordinary serenity and calm, a complete unselfishness and charity, an amazing dignity of mind and life. We have had fifteen years together and I have known great happiness.

I am mailing you some clippings which are destined for a man in San Pedro who desired them for some article— {Perhaps they will interest you.} Will you after you have looked them over send them to Louis Adamic PO Box 966, San Pedro, California.

My dear love and hoping you'll come in a not distant time.

Una.

Dear Mrs. Muckleston:

Una has let me read your altogether delightful paper about her¹ —you'd have laughed indeed to see the three men of this family, one after the other, absorbed in those pages. (I meant to read it aloud to the boys, as I do so many things, but they got ahead of me.) It is truthful—so far as relates to Una at least, though we don't tell her these things—and charmingly written, and observed with amazing accuracy.

I am writing to ask a favor: may I have a copy typed before we return the original? Not that we haven't got Una by heart; but it is delightful to have her on paper too. —And thank you much for having put her there.

Sincerely yours,

Robinson Jeffers.

RJ to Ernest G. Moll

Carmel, California

May, 1929.

Dear Mr. Moll:¹

I come to you as a penitent. My wife usually is good enough to look at and answer {if necessary} letters that come for me—because I never can get it done. When yours came several months ago she said "They are very good poems," and I said "Then let me answer the letter." But I did not read at that time; the letter was laid aside for me and I never found it again until to-night. I am very sorry.

They are, as she said, very good poems. So good that I was able quite to forget myself in reading, and not even wish that they had a better subject. Thank you sincerely, and let me congratulate you on the power and music of the lines.

Three weeks from now we are going away for a year to Ireland and England—I hardly know why, unless for the children's sake. After that, if you are south sometime, I hope you will come and see me and my stones.

Sincerely yours,

Robinson Jeffers.

Dear Lee:¹

It would be very pleasant to me if people would pronounce Henry Purcell correctly. (I'm hoping we'll have another evening of Early English Music next year). It is Pursel, and no other way. Do stretch your column to say so.

—Una Jeffers

PL. Pine Cone.

RJ to Michael Myerberg*

Dear Michael—¹

Here are the thousand words, the best I could do in a short space of time, and I hope the article will serve our purpose.² If there is anything in it you object to, you are free to alter—within reason, of course—and so is the Times, but I hope they will not cut enough to make nonsense of anything.

Good luck to the play—and let me say that I have the greatest admiration for your courage, as well as your ability.

Sincerely,
Robinson Jeffers.

Mr. Lewis Funke,

Dear Mr. Funke:

Here is the article you suggested about “Tower beyond Tragedy.”¹ It is a little short of 1200 words, and I hope it is not too dull. It was kind of you to ask for it.

Sincerely,

Robinson Jeffers.
